EDMONTON, ALBERTA

FEBRUARY 14, 1974

ANDREW L. DOUCETTE 1900-1974

ANDREW LEO DOUCETTE, Professor Emeritus of Education, died February 4, 1974 at the age of 73.

Dr. Doucette studied at the Nova Scotia Technical Institute and received a BSc in Civil Engineering from Dalhousie University in 1919. In 1923 he received a certificate from the Edmonton Normal School and, after teaching at schools near St. Paul and Fort Saskatchewan and in Edmonton, he became a school inspector for the provincial Department of Education. He taught at the Camrose Normal School from 1936 to 1938, at the Calgary Normal School from 1938 to 1940, and at the Edmonton Normal School from 1940 to 1941. During this time he completed graduate courses at The University of Alberta, receiving his MA in 1940.

From late 1941 to May 1946, Dr. Doucette served as Personnel Selection Officer in the Royal Canadian Army, advancing from Second Lieutenant to Major. The following year he completed his oral and written examinations at Stanford University and was awarded a DEd degree (With Distinction) in 1949.

He received his first appointment at this University in 1945. In 1947 he was named Director of the Calgary branch of The University of Alberta and assumed responsibility for the early development of what later became The University of Calgary. In the mid-40s The University of Alberta took over the responsibility for all teacher training in the province, and what was then the Calgary Normal School grew into Calgary's Faculty of Education.

Dr. Doucette was named Associate Dean of Education and administrative head of the Education faculty at Calgary in 1960. He retired in 1961.

Comet Kohoutek was approximately 75 million miles from the Earth when it was photographed January 17 at the Devon Observatory by D. HUBE, Assistant Professor of Physics, and students G. FINLEY and L. PIT. The 20-minute exposure on Tri-X film was guided on the comet, hence the stars in the background are trailed. The film was developed to 2000 ASA.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS: HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA?

In April 1973, General Faculties Council approved a revision in the general admission requirements as stated in § 13.1.1 of the University Calendar. The revised admission requirements were designed to accommodate the phasing out of Department of Education grade XII examinations. One effect of the revision was to delete the previous reference to the requirement that Alberta matriculants possess an Alberta High School Diploma.

When the revised admission requirements were publicized, complaints were received that the measure had been adopted without appropriate consultation with such bodies as the Universities Co-ordinating Council and the High School and Universities Articulation Committee. The fear was expressed that the abandonment of the High School Diploma requirement would undermine the high school system, in that students might no longer choose to take optional subjects and might confine themselves in grades X, XI, and XII to the five subjects acceptable for admissions to university.

Because the complaints were justified, the statement under discussion has been re-inserted in the 1974-75 Calendar to indicate that Alberta matriculants "must normally possess an Alberta High School Diploma." In addition, the following statement has been sent to Alberta High School and Department of Education officials:

"The statement of admission requirements which appears in some current University of Alberta literature is incomplete. The normal requirement of a high school diploma is still in effect. Please note, however, that the University may waive this requirement in individual cases, for example for mature students."

CENSUS STATISTICS BECOMING AVAILABLE

Increasing amounts of data from the 1971 Census of Canada are becoming available for research purposes. The Census data represent a highly significant source of information on contemporary Canadian society as well as a very substantial public expenditure for its collection and processing. Moreover, unprecedented efforts have been made to increase the information from the 1971 Census and to improve access to the data.

The Social Science Research Council of Canada and its Committee on Statistics have been concerned with the need to ensure that independent research on 1971 Census data can be effectively carried out. Plans to ensure this are nearing completion. Those who wish to have access to 1971 Census data, or to be considered as participants in any specified research program which may be sponsored, are now being encouraged to formulate their needs and interests in fairly concrete terms. It would be worthwhile for them to be giving serious consideration to the studies they might plan to undertake.

Those who are seriously planning studies which will make extensive use of 1971 Census data should inform the committee of the general nature of their projects. Letters should be addressed to: The Committee on Statistics, Social Science Research Council of Canada, 151 Slater Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1P 5H3.

RADIATION SAFETY COURSES

The Radiation Control Committee is planning to hold another series of Radiation Safety Courses for individuals using, or planning to use, radioactive materials at The University of Alberta.

These courses are designed to give individuals, primarily at the technician level, some basic training in the safe use of radioactive materials in the laboratory. However, graduate students, faculty, and other interested individuals are welcome.

The next course is scheduled to begin March 4, 1974. Enrolment is restricted to 15 persons. Individuals interested in attending a course can obtain registration forms from the Radiation Control Office by telephoning 432-5655. There will be a fee of $1 per course participant to cover the cost of training manuals.

COLLECTION OF PAPER FOR RECYCLING

The following notice has been received from R. E. PHILLIPS, Director of Physical Plant.

The Building Services Division has recently completed placing 176 plastic containers in various offices on the campus for the purpose of collecting paper for recycling.

The containers are supplied in two sizes. If in time it is found that larger containers or additional containers are required in any area, these will be made available.

The benefits of collecting paper for recycling are well known; however, in order for the collection program to be successful it is essential that a high proportion of University staff and students participate by collecting salvageable paper from within their own departments and buildings and by depositing it in the containers provided. Manpower is not available to sort whatever is put into the containers so it is essential that only paper for recycling be placed in them. The Building Services Division's budget cannot afford to lose money on this recycling program. Its continuation will depend entirely on the success of the response.

At this time it is not the intention to request that waste paper be separated into the four grades indicated as "Acceptable." (This separation however in the long run is desirable for strictly economical reasons. If staff in any department are willing to participate in grading the waste paper, information on grades will be found on the poster placed above or adjacent to the container. Additional information or containers for this purpose may be obtained by telephoning or writing the Building Services Division, Department of Physical Plant, telephone 432-5224.)

Some staff have expressed the desire to collect newspapers at home and would do this if they could dispose of the material easily. Newspapers tied in bundles may be left in the trailer container at the north side of Athabasca Hall with the assurance they will be sent for recycling.

Your assistance with this program will be appreciated.

Its main groups are to include native peoples and later immigrants as well as English and French. Disciplines represented include anthropology, linguistics, psychology, and sociology; interactions of basic and applied research are of interest.

Since one obvious first step the Committee must take is to review the current status of relevant Canadian research, Dr. MacArthur (432-3693) would be pleased to receive from investigators information on recently reported or on-going research in this general area.
